

At-Home Learning Websites

Recommended by Ms. Mirander ☺

* A lot of these websites are also apps, so if you wanted to download these apps onto any tablets or ipads your child uses, that would be awesome!

Literacy

- Raz-Kids.com - differentiated reading to meet the reading needs of your child.
  - In their Assignments section - I already sent multiple books about influential women for scholars to read during March (Women's History Month)
  - This app allows them to read at their Just Right reading level and take quizzes.
  - If you need their login info, message me.
- Spellingcity.com - resource to practice spelling words - UPDATED weekly.
  - Students' spelling lists are already uploaded from this week until the end of the school year, so they can follow the assigned games to keep up with their spelling words at home.
  - If you need their login info, message me.

- Amplify.com - reading practice that is differentiated for your child
    - If you need their login info, message me.
  - Brainpop.com - FREE during school closures! Great resource that has VIDEOS for all subject areas.
  - Flocabulary.com - FREE during school closures! Great resource that has RAP VIDEOS for all subject areas. KIDS love this one in class! 😊
  - <https://www.storylineonline.net/> - Award winning books read aloud by actors/actresses
  - Scholastic.com/learnathome - FREE day-by-day lessons to keep kids reading, thinking, and growing!
  - Typing.com - typing practice - FREE
  - StudyLadder.com - all subjects practice - FREE

Math

- <https://play.prodigygame.com/> - FREE math practice - I have already aligned our current math standards to match the games students play on this platform.
- ST Math - math practice - I have already aligned our current math standards to match the games students play on this platform. (Students will have to login through www.clever.com with their emails to access the ST Math I align to our math standards.)
- Zearn.com - FREE math resources

Additional Resources (websites for brain break, building students' creativity)

- <https://family.gonoodle.com/> - FREE for Families - HIGHLY RECOMMEND - guided dance, exercise, and mindfulness videos that make excellent brain breaks throughout the day, especially if it's raining outside! ☺
- <https://fluencyandfitness.com> - FREE 2 WEEK TRIAL - great for movement + literacy practice (might be a little young for our readers, but always good to practice)
- www.Youtube.com/user/ArtforKidshub - guided drawings on youtube of popular characters, animals, etc.
- <https://mysteryscience.com/school-closure-planning> - Mystery Science is providing free science lessons and activities by grade level to all students during this time!
- <https://www.kennedy-center.org/education/mo-willems/> - Lunch Doodles with one of our favorite illustrators Mo Willems!
